

Recommendation letter

I have a pleasure working with Aleks Aleksandrov in our warehouse team here in Årslev for the past couple of years. During this time Aleks has proved himself as a very valuable player in the daily production and as a team player overall. Aleks started working with us as a part-time employee, however after several months, we have noticed that he is interested in daily processes and how to make them better. After a year of work with us, Aleks first started to aid with running Friday and Sunday evening shifts and shortly later took over it completely. That means that he is the only responsible person at the production, when management is not at work.

Overall, I can say that Aleks is an important key player in the team. I would highly recommend Aleks to any future positions as he can be not only independent, but also a great team player with flexibility to work in an efficient ways with his stakeholders.
